In partnership with Bank of Hope, we hosted a financial literacy workshop serving 25 families—offering guidance on holiday budgeting and a special surprise to spread warmth and cheer.

But that's not all! We didn't forget to include family fun with games, holiday drinks, family portraits and more.

Grateful for each other...

KFAM celebrated the holidays with the dedicated staff who provide essential services to community members throughout Southern California.

For those who have heartache that they can't share with anyone, it's an organization that will help without any questions asked. I am so thankful for this place that held my hand warmly and helped me get back on my feet when the weight of life was overwhelming.

If you want to get out of a dark tunnel, please visit here and find peace and stability. If you need a helping hand, I recommend you to visit KFAM.
